Log in to your clicker and prepare to respond!

1. Which sentence emphasizes the arrival of the infant?
   - A. On a routine morning at the clinic, an infant in cardiac arrest arrived by ambulance.
   - B. We experienced a routine morning at the clinic until an infant in cardiac arrest arrived by ambulance.

2. Which sentence emphasizes that the Camaro is no longer street legal?
   - A. My 1969 Camaro, which is no longer street legal, is an original SS396.
   - B. My 1969 Camaro, an original SS396, is no longer street legal.

3. Which sentence emphasizes the Hawaiian’s attempt to preserve their customs?
   - A. Attempting to preserve their customs, Hawaiians have been forced to change by outsiders.
   - B. Forced to change, native Hawaiians try to preserve their customs.

My son asked his grandmother to chaperone the class trip. She was thrilled.

Melissa was reading the detective story while the presidential election results were announced.
Aim: How else can you introduce sentence variety through subordination?

1. Jacob Davis was a Russian immigrant working in Reno, Nevada. He was the inventor of Levi’s jeans.

2. Davis came up with an invention that made work clothes last longer. The invention was the riveted seam.

3. Davis bought denim from a wholesaler. The wholesaler was Levi Strauss.
Aim: How else can you introduce sentence variety through subordination?

Remembered for his many wives, Henry VIII was a powerful English king.

Eaten by a grizzly bear, Tim Treadwell showed that wild animals are unpredictable.

Tim Treadwell was eaten by a grizzly bear. He showed that wild animals are unpredictable.

Aim: How else can you introduce sentence variety through subordination?

Henry VIII was a powerful English king. He is remembered for his many wives.

Remembered for his many wives, Henry VIII was a powerful English king.

Aim: How else can you introduce sentence variety through subordination?

1. The women of southern Nigeria were angered by British colonial rule in 1929. They organized a protest.
2. Nigeria is now one of the top ten oil-producing countries. The nation is covered with pipelines and oil wells.
3. The oil is pumped by American and other foreign oil companies. The oil often ends up in other Western economies.

Aim: How else can you introduce sentence variety through subordination?

Using SAP, rewrite each set of short sentences as a single sentence. Record and submit your answers on a separate sheet of paper.

1. Under-developed: Writing frequently choppy or repetitive, demonstrating only one or none of the subordination strategies.
2. Proficient: Writing occasionally choppy or repetitive, demonstrating at least two subordination strategies.
3. Well Developed/Advanced: Writing is essentially fluent, demonstrating all three subordination strategies.

Aim: How else can you introduce sentence variety through subordination?

Using SAP

1. I can take the 6:30 express train. I can’t catch the 7:00 bus.
2. Miriam worked on her research paper. She interviewed five people for the paper. She worked all weekend. She was tired.
3. Juan’s new job kept him busy every day. He did not have time to work out at the gym for over a month.
4. Carla is tall. She is strong. She is a team player. She was the starting center on the basketball team.
5. Betsy loves Bach’s music. She also likes Scott Joplin.
1. I can take the 6:30 express if I can’t catch the 7:00 bus.

- A Subordinate clause
- B Appositive phrase
- C Participial phrase

2. Kept busy everyday by his new job, Juan did not have time to work out at the gym for over a month.

- A Subordinate clause
- B Appositive phrase
- C Participial phrase

3. Betsy, who loves Bach’s music, also likes Scott Joplin.

- A Subordinate clause
- B Appositive phrase
- C Participial phrase

Aim: How else can you introduce sentence variety through subordination?